RESTAURANT OPERATOR ACCUSED

Araigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom yesterday on charges of arson and burning a building, Nick Lampieres, proprietor of the Pacific Grill at Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue, was taken to the county jail at Martinez, where he is being held in lieu of $5000 bail.

Lampieres was arrested on a warrant sworn to by a member of the Richmond police department yesterday as the result of an alleged attempt to burn the restaurant early yesterday morning.

Lampieres, according to police, was heavily in debt. Yesterday the restaurant and furnishings were attached by George Zanes, a local grocer, who alleges that Lampieres owes him the sum of $151.81 for groceries.

All Day Grilling
All day yesterday police and fire department officials grilled Lampieres, but were unable to break down his story. He declared that he knew nothing of the blaze and that when he left the restaurant there were no signs of a fire. He stated that he did not know of any enemies who might have started the blaze.

One of the angles of the case, which was being closely checked by authorities was a discrepancy in stories told by Lampieres and his wife, regarding the restaurant man's movements on Monday night.

While Mrs. Lampieres told police that her husband had returned from the restaurant at 9:30 p. m. Monday night, Lampieres, unaware of the statement given by his wife, insisted that he had left the restaurant a few minutes before midnight, shortly before the blaze broke out.

Looked at Watch
Mrs. Lampieres was insistent in her story, stating that she had looked at her watch when her husband came in and that it was about 9:30 p. m. She said that they retired a short time later.

At the time of his arrest Lampieres carried a recently issued insurance policy on the restaurant in his pocket.

Early Tuesday morning a passerby smelled smoke as he walked by the restaurant. An alarm was turned in.

Candles Found
Firemen found two candles placed in the middle of a mass of kerosene-soaked papers underneath the building. One candle had set afire to a mass of the papers.

A can, police say, which had contained kerosene, was found close to the walls of the structure. Police reported that the tracks of a person who had crawled under the building on his hands and knees to fix the fire traps had been found.

Fire Chief William P. Cooper and Chief of Police J. Daniel Cox were personally in charge of the investigation into the blaze.

Bridge Approach Will Be Widened
MARTINEZ, Aug. 6.—Widening of the approaches to the Peyton bridge across the Southern Pacific tracks on the Martinez-Avon highway moved a step nearer as the result of action taken by the county board of supervisors today.

Ralph R. Arnold, county surveyor, was authorized to take immediate steps to obtain rights of way at both the north and south ends of the span.

Through widening the bridge approaches, traffic will be able to proceed at a faster and safer pace.

COUNTY TAX CUT SEEN AS COSTS PARED

MARTINEZ, Aug. 6.—The tax rate for the coming year will be less than the $2.65 for last year, in the opinion of W. J. Buchanan, chairman of the county board of supervisors.

Members of the Contra Costa Taxpayers' association budget committee have been conferring with the supervisors on ways and means of reducing the tax rate. As a consequence of the meeting of the two bodies, some $20,000 have been pared from a total request of $1,064,469. With approximately $1,044,469 remaining in the unbudgeted reserve fund from last year, the general fund is also due for a slash by the supervisors.

Official action on the proposed levy of 22 cents to raise $200,000 yearly for three years for the construction of the proposed hall of records will be delayed by the supervisors until Aug. 19. This action was taken to permit the taxpayers' association committee making a survey to determine the necessity of a hall of records will be delayed by the supervisors until August 19. This action was taken to permit the taxpayers' association committee making a survey to determine the necessity of a hall of records will be delayed by the supervisors until August 19.

Buchanan is in favor of the direct tax as he feels that it will provide a saving over the bond plan by eliminating the burden of interest.

F. W. Veith, chairman of the budget committee of taxpayers' association submitted a suggestion that but $100,000 be raised annually and also suggested a delay of one year on the hall proposal. George F. Fredenburg and Ralph Bergen are Richmond members of the committee.

A levy for the construction of a veterans hall in El Cerrito was being temporarily removed from the budget, indicating that construction of the building will be delayed until next year.

Approximately $60,000 has been included in the budget for acquiring rights of way for the Tunnel highway together with the engineering expenses which are expected to be incidental to the state taking over the road. The county must acquire the rights of way for the highway.

The taxpayers' committee also conferred with County Superintendent of Schools W. H. Hanlon in an effort to pare from the school budget funds deemed not absolutely necessary.

W. T. HELMS III.
Walter T. Helms, city superintendent of schools, is confined to his home, slightly ill.

POISON FISH DEATH TOLL 4

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—UP.—Death toll from poison shell fish, collected along the northern California coast this week, remained at four tonight, but six persons were still critically ill and others were being treated.

Four members of the family of Joseph Podella and Mrs. Bertha Monta were in a hospital here suffering from poison in clams and mussels they gathered at the mouth of the Russian river.

Physicians at Sebastopol tried to save the life of Pasqual Gellardi.

Two victims died Sunday and two others Monday. As a result state health authorities have placed a quarantine against gathering of shell fish from Monterey county to Del Norte county and have asked the state fish and game warden to furnish a boat for enforcement of the rule. The ban will probably be effective until the last of this month.

County Calls For Road Bids

MARTINEZ, Aug. 6.—Plans and specifications for two road jobs were accepted by the county board of supervisors today and a call was issued for bids to be received Sept. 2.

Star Compromises Heart Balm Suit

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6.—UP.—Stepin Fetchit, the one-time race horse rubber whom the talkies made a film star, today settled in Superior court for $5,000 a $100,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Yvonne Butler.

Miss Butler contended that Fetchit promised last October to marry her, but instead married another girl, recently. Mrs. Butler is a minor and the court approved the settlement. The actor, whose legal name is Lincoln Theodore Perry, took the name of Stepin Fetchit because he used to rub a horse named Step-and-Fetchit.

10-KILLED BY TROOPS IN RUMANIA

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 6.—UP.—Soldiers stormed a power plant at Lupeni, Transylvania, today, driving back miners who were on a strike and killing 10 of them. A large number of miners were injured.

About 3000 strikes barricaded the power plant. They were said to have wrecked the plant because employers refused to grant their terms in a wage dispute.

The soldiers ordered them to disperse, but the miners refused. They threatened the soldiers, it is charged, and were met with a volley of rifle fire.

It was feared that the entire district, in which about 18,000 miners are employed, might join the strike as a result of the fighting.

RODEO, Aug. 6.—As a guide to air mail fliers, a 2,000,000 candle power beacon will be installed on the top of pier No. 3 of the Carquinez Straits bridge within 30 days, according to George Calder, vice president of the American Toll Bridge company.

The beacon is being installed by the department of commerce and the superintendent of lighthouses with the cooperation of the bridge company. Its position will be at the highest point of the bridge structure.

Visible for many miles in clear weather the beacon is expected to prove of especial value in foggy weather as a guide over the water course.

PRISON MINE WORKERS IN BREAK

LANSING, Kan., Aug. 6.—UP.—Less than three hours after four-ten prisoners in the state penitentiary here today turned on their guards with revolvers concealed in their prison clothes and made break to freedom, all of them had been returned to their cells, two were dead and order had been restored.

J. D. Knight, prisoner, was wounded when guards fought a gun duel with the convicts, a half mile from the prison walls.

The break occurred at 3:45 p. m. Among convicts working in a prison mine, guns had been smuggled to the convicts who, apparently, had planned the mutiny carefully. The guards were lined up against a mine shaft and ordered by the 14 convict miners to conduct them quietly through the prison gate.

Outside the walls the prisoners broke away. Guards opened fire and a battle was fought on the outskirts of the village of Lansing, which is about 30 miles from Leavenworth, site of the federal prison in which a similar mutiny occurred last week.

200 ATTEND TERMINAL DINNER

Richmond's book of the past was closed and the book of the future was opened at the Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Berkeley Country club last night.

Speakers agreed that the event marked a milestone in the city's history, a point from which the community will now move forward to new and greater achievements, dwarfing the accomplishments of recent years.

The dinner commemorated the completion of the Parr Richmond terminal and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the city, and was attended by 200 outstanding men of Richmond, San Francisco and the eastbay cities. Speakers stressed the value of co-operation in community building and pointed to Richmond as a striking example of what can be accomplished in a city through the united efforts of public officials and private citizens properly organized.

Outstanding guests included Paul Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific; Col. Frank Knox, general manager of the Hearst newspapers; A. B. C. Dohrmann, president of the Canwell Emporium company; Congressman A. E. Carter of Alameda county; Alexander Heron, representing Goy, C. C. Young; A. M. Newhall, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; Fred D. Parr, head of the Parr Terminal Corporation, and others.

Joseph P. Brooks, chairman, sketched the recent history of Richmond and pointed out that Contra Costa county is first among California counties in the value of its manufactured products, with Richmond contributing about half of these values.

Team Work Lauded
"The team work of the city and Fred Parr has made possible our present development," Brooks said. "The completion of the new terminal is a fitting expression of what can be accomplished through cooperation."

P. M. Sanford, president of the Chamber of Commerce who acted as toastmaster, joined with Mayor A. L. Paulsen in offering the greetings of the city and welcoming the visitors.

Congressman Carter, as a member of the River and Harbor committee of the House of Representatives, pledged his continued interest in the Richmond harbor and said he will continue to give his support to every constructive harbor measure.

Bay Cities C. of C.
Newhall, voicing his plan for a bay cities Chamber of Commerce, said the plan is now being worked out in committee and will in the near future be ready for discussion.

"The whole bay area must come together in some sort of cooperative scheme if we are to enjoy the prosperity that should be ours," he declared.

Parr, in outlining plans for the operation of the new terminal, said it is his determination to see Richmond placed on a basis of absolute equality with the other bay cities as regards transportation.

"I mean this," he said, "that if a shipper wishes to place cargo at a point three blocks from the ferry building in San Francisco, he can unload the whole shipment, a (Continued on Page 8)

Transportation For San Pablo Problem

Faced with the problem of providing adequate transportation for the citizens of the town of San Pablo, the San Pablo Chamber of Commerce will meet tomorrow night at the Country Inn in an effort to solve the problem.

Ernest Lucas, operator of the Richmond Transit company, recently applied to the state railroad commission for permission to extend his bus service down San Pablo avenue to the town of San Pablo and thence back to Richmond.

But for some reason Lucas had the petition dismissed at his own request.

As a result San Pablo faces the vital problem of providing transportation that will serve the growing needs of that community. Until two years ago a port of call in the district was served by the Key System Transit company. Later the transit company obtained permission for the state railroad commission and tore up its tracks along San Pablo avenue.

At the present time the Key company is running an irregular service to the north end of Twenty-third street.

Directors of the San Pablo chamber are in a quandary as to the best and most adequate methods to be used.

They have their choice of two methods:

1. Starting a bus system to be owned by the city.
2. Giving a subsidy to a privately owned bus company.

Some decision will be reached by the chamber tomorrow night.

Contract Awarded For Clyde Reservoir

MARTINEZ, Aug. 6.—Contract for the building of a 1,500,000-gallon reservoir at Clyde was awarded today by the California Water Service company to W. H. Rohl.

Rohl, it was announced, was the lowest of 14 bidders. Work will be started Monday morning. The project will cost $803,000 and will be completed within 100 days, it was stated.

Rohl is a grading contractor, who is now building the Bay Shore highway south from San Francisco. He built the Puddingstone dam of the Los Angeles flood control project within 85 days.

Judge Alstrom reported yesterday that July was the "lightest" month for traffic cases ever reported in his court.

Since the first of the year traffic cases recorded in his court have been decreasing steadily, Judge Alstrom declared.

THE WOMAN OF IT

BY MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

THE OLDEST STORY

"The spruce the scope, the luf'ge thee,
With the man who will not see thee,
That's how in good King Alfred's day
The game of love they used to play."

"Lightlike laughing Lilithblanche Lithesum as a flower,
Blithesum as a meadow-lark,
At the sunrise hour,
Waiting for his lover-knight
Riding on his steed—oh!
That's what folk of Chaucer's day Loved to hear and read—oh!"

"And hey, nonny, nonny!
Come love and be gay!
That's what they sang
In Elizabeth's day."

"Mildady's hair doth rival Orient silk, Mildady's skin outwhites the purest milk."
Thus quoth the lovesick swain or courtier gay
In classic couplets of Pope's haughty day.

"Out of the grim and gruesome woods
Sir Garmond riding came,
The blossoms-spread along his path
A thoroughfare of flame.
He carried as he blithely rode,
He sang a love-ditty—
From Tennysonian Table Round
He came, the more's the pity!"

"I'm in love with you, baby, Say you love me, too, maybe—
The same old song, the same old phrase,
Still echoes from Old Saxon days!
EUKA LAYLIE."

Women, Work and Worry

SCIENCE, as we have often noted, or at least the scientist, adds to the innocent mirra of many a woman
Who reads the "scientific" discoveries about her sex.
Here's the latest and choicest:
Dr. Bernard Hollander, famous British allergist and criminologist, says
That women sleep more than men
Because (italics ours) they have less work and worry.
That long, low rumble you'll be hearing today
Is not thunder, or guns in the war gaunt, but the concentrated chorus of groans
From the throats of all the women who now learn
That they have "less work and worry than men."

And who are, as one woman, chanting,
fiercely:
"IS—THAT—SO?"

Try and tell it to any woman who is a working housewife and the mother of little children.

Who toils from six o'clock in the morning until long after dinner, Cooking, cleaning, nursing, marketing, washing, ironing, sewing, mending,
who enjoys no eight-hour day,
No Saturday afternoon and Sunday off,
And who WORRIES more than she works.

She is worrying continually about whether Jackie's stiff neck means that he's coming down with infantile paralysis.

Or whether Marie's sore throat is the beginning of diphtheria.

Or whether either child has fallen into the deep end of the tide pool.

Or whether both are keeping away from that dangerous blind automobile turn.

Or why Marie gets such stubborn fits about wearing a middle blouse.

Or when Jackie's tonsils will have to come out.

Or how much really good and sweet and clever children can be brought up with all the education and opportunity and happiness.

Which every mother lies awake nights planning to give her youngsters—more or less than she wishes it were.

Or try and tell the woman downtown that she does more than men.

When she not only does the same sort of job for the same length of time,
But often and often, as daughter or Malaya.

THE long, circular sleeves, open down the front, and a long train are the outstanding features of this lovely negligee from Estima Maloot. The neck too is interesting, being low in the back and having a tie. All the edges are self-bound.

The most exquisite, subtle colors are blended in this lounging robe of velvet from Fortuny. It has a gold leaf design on black and is lined with a dusky rose silk. The rolled edge of soft grayed blue is particularly effective.

Refreshments for the Beach

At a beach party it is quite possible to carry out a color scheme and serve the refreshments in daintily as at home. Color is obtained in table covers, napkins, plates and cups.

The hostess will accompany her guests to the beach, but some member of her family or a friend could transfer the refreshments in an automobile and have the table set so these can be served upon the arrival of the guests.
One of the tables usually found at a beach can be used or the table cloth can be spread on the sand.

Chiffon Weight Lingerie

THE ideal has been attained in summer intimate apparel. New garments indescribably dainty and delicate are made of a chiffon weight glove silk in white and pastel tints as well as black if desired.

To enhance their appeal these garments of a mere waif of fabric are cut along the smart, brief lines and embody all the niceties of tailoring and design.

There are banded U-back and bodice top vests to combine with yoke front shorts. Girdle-band panties and briefs—the term for abbreviated bloomers. Three very charming styles are shown in nightgowns.

This material is wondrously cool, yet like chiffon lingerie must be handled with care as it is so gauzy that it is subject to the drop threads or runs common to stockings.

Make the Most of Your Eyes

HE was a blonde of the sandy sort,
Pale skin, pale hair and pale eyes.
Indeed, she gave the impression of having no eyes at all. Her own husband, when asked the color of his wife's eyes after he had lived with her for fifteen years could not be quite sure.

"Blue," he guessed,
"as a matter of fact,
I think he guessed right."

Now, the trouble with these eyes was not that they were small, nor of a watery blue, but they were simply bald. Bald of lashes and exceedingly pale as to their eyebrows.

They were sadly in need of accenting.
If you are not convinced that the effectiveness of your eyes is dependent upon the luxuriance of your eyebrows and lashes, then all we have to say is this: Give them a dusting with face powder and then take a good look at yourself!

But just take an eyebrow pencil and whisk it across your eyebrows, then tip your lashes with mascara and note the amazing difference it makes in the apparent size and brightness of your eyes.
However, this is not an article on makeup. The object of to-day's little "strmon" is to help you cultivate real eyebrows and eyebrows.

Nothing would please us better than to be able to offer you some new and magically effective discovery along these lines, but the beauty world has far knows of no more effective eyebrow and eyelash grower than petroleum jelly plus massage. It is slow, but sure, and extremely simple of application.

Night and morning, anoint the eyebrows and lashes with a drop or two of the jelly. Then, ever so gently, massage it well into the hair roots. If at the same time you will take the trouble to trail the lashes upward, in time they will tend to grow that way.

Your first efforts may possibly result in some slight irritation of the eye. Nearly all first efforts in this direction do. It just means that you have been too generous with the petroleum jelly, and the surplus has gone into the eyes. Discontinue the treatment for a day or two, meanwhile bathing the eyes frequently with a solution of a teaspoonful of boric acid or plain table salt to one pint of warm water.

Wise mothers of girl babies will give the tiny lids a daily massage as described above. This is the "secret" of many startlingly lovely eye fringes.

Tucks and Tuck-Ins

THOUGH entirely differing in meaning, both tucks and tucking have become interwoven in the fall mode. Never have garments been more elaborately or intricately tucked. This is the new tailored detail which marks both coats and dresses. And the tuck-in blouse gains followers with every day although it has not displaced the overbust employed many times just to stress the moulded waistline.

Scientific Advances

Research at the University of California has shown that some disease germs can live in boiling water for hours although high temperatures kill most of them.

Realism's Added Touch

WHERE but in Newport would there exist a necessity for the addition of a locomotive to the familiar car diner? The proprietor responds to the call for the complete fitness of his outfit and the local carpenter and painter do their best to make the lunchers in the two-car train feel that while bolting their ham and eggs they are speeding over the rails to some place they have dreamed they are going. Clever people those Newporters.

(J. Herman Seiditz, author, statesman and military expert, to-day describes the effect of the Kellogg-Briand multi-lateral treaty against war. This pact is now in effect, and the fact that no wars have broken out since July 24 shows how effective it is. Mr. Seiditz is an expert on peace treaties. He was present at the signing of every pact from the peace of the War of 1812 to the settlement of the Stillman case. In to-day's absorbing article he interprets the most important phases of the Kellogg-Briand thing. The article follows immediately—no waits.)

THE KELLOGG-BRIAND PEACE PACT

By J. Herman Seiditz

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty has been proclaimed, making the 1914-18 fracas the last war. This is certainly a joke on the du Pont people and the Krupps, who have a lot of fresh armaments and projectiles on their hands. I don't know where the du Pont and Krupp companies get off unless they beat their guns and armor plate into bullet-proof vests for the Chicago trade and use their sixteen-inch shells for trapshooting.

The Kellogg-Briand treaty is one of the greatest pieces of paper in its line.
It came about as follows: Mr. Kellogg got tired of signing his name to packages of cornflakes to make them genuine. He wanted to affix his signature to something bigger. So he got in touch with Donald Briand, who had a prominent part in "The Merry Widow." Donald Briand, as Prince Danilo of Teropogravia in the play, immediately signed an agreement that Teropogravia would never make war on the United States without first calling us the person, collect.

Mr. Kellogg then got out a new package of all-bran breakfast food which did not require his signature and went to Europe with the treaty.
He interviewed England, France, Belgium, Japan and Muscovy and got all their signatures by assuring them they were joining a book-of-the-month club.

Mr. Kellogg then announced that he had signed a treaty outlawing war and Donald Briand went into the talkies.
As none of the nations felt like going to war within the next few weeks they all agreed that war should be abolished until the next one broke out.

The Kellogg-Briand thing is a bang-up pact of peace. But personally I think it would have been more effective if Mr. Kellogg got the nations to agree not to have the next war till the last one is paid for.

Many persons are puzzled as to why

MRS. PERSIFOR FRAZER'S FAVORITE BOY-TRIMMED SPORTS FROCK

Autumnal Fashion Features Reflected in Attractive Summer Frocks

By HELEN WORDEN
Copyright Press Publishing Co. (New York World) 1929

This attractive summer frock worn by Mrs. Persifor Frazer 3d at Southampton embodies many of the fall fashion features.

The full, bertha-like collar terminates in deep reverses at the front. The intricately seamed bodice is held in place by numerous bows, knotted carelessly at the right side, and for a final point of interest the trim little skirt is circular in cut and slightly longer than the past season's hemline.

The position of Mrs. Frazer's bracelets is diverting, the plain band on the right arm being slipped well above the elbow while that which encircles the left arm is worn at the wrist line.

A single strand of pearls, jeweled bar pin, soft, white fabric bag, sunburnt tan silk hose and brown and white kid sports sandals complete the accessories.

The interesting event of the week at Southampton will be the annual costume ball to be given by the Charles Van Vleck's at Ballyshear Saturday evening.

The Persifor Frazeres are popular members of the younger set and will undoubtedly be among the guests at the Van Vleck ball. Much enthusiasm has been displayed in the planning of the costumes, which range in character from sailor boys to Swedish noblemen.

DANGERS SEEN IN MELODY PICTURE

Musical comedy and vaudeville dangers recurred from New York and the Pacific coast have their imitations in the all-talking, singing and dancing hit, "The Broadway Melody," which starts its second day at the Fox California theater today and comes tomorrow.

Ballet, song ensembles and other brilliant acts figure in the theater scenes in this vivid drama of backstage life. Among the dancing stars are Alice Weaver, New York dancer, and Fletcher Norton, known on stage as the world's greatest soft-shoe dancer.

Anita Page, Bessie Love and Charles King are the principals in this vivid romance staged among the lights of Broadway.

Two sisters bring their dancing act to Broadway. They fall until the beauty of one wins them a place in the chorus. Then matters are further tangled when they fall in love with the same man. The unraveling of the problem constitutes the story of "The Broadway Melody."

Then just for fun an all-talking comedy entitled, "Hurdy-Gurdy," is included on the bill.

School nurse says all girls should know this

"TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: 'One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping.'"

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and it works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every drugist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

"ON WITH THE SHOW" is the first 100% natural color, Vitaphone picture. It is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
"Welcome home," a musical comedy trying out on the road, is stranded. Willie Durant, the musical comedy star, is friendly with Nita French, the star, but, strangely enough, refuses to put up any more money. Behind Nita's back he is attentive to Kitty, the check room girl with stage aspirations, and induces her father, "Old" Malone, stage doorman, and her sweetheart, Jimmy, head usher, to invest their life savings in the piece Jerry Connelly, the manager, is unable to pay salaries. Sam Bloom, scenery builder, comes to take the sets. Jimmy suggests robbing the box office, but Jerry vetoes the idea.

"Of course he will." Without giving him any opportunity to protest further, Sarah dragged Bloom along with her.

Jerry heaved a sigh of relief. "Well, that staves off calamity for awhile, anyhow." He began pacing back and forth, still trying to figure some way out of his difficulty.

A blare of music blared up the specialty number, and the twins came running off. Back for their bows, then off again. A soft crooning melody rose and fell as the curtain went up on the second scene of the first act to reveal a old plantation with a white pillared,

"Hello, Jerry," the girl greeted the manager. "Gee, we've got a change of apparel over the place. These would be perfect to pay back our house management. Still, he didn't want to go to jail, and yet it all seemed so logical and easy. The loss of his own hundred dollars could be paid, but he had to think of Kitty and Dad."

As Jimmy was revolving the idea in his mind a light tap sounded behind him and Kitty laid a hand on his arm.

"Hello, Jerry," the girl greeted the manager. "Gee, we've got a change of apparel over the place. These would be perfect to pay back our house management. Still, he didn't want to go to jail, and yet it all seemed so logical and easy. The loss of his own hundred dollars could be paid, but he had to think of Kitty and Dad."

"What's colder out," Jerry remarked unfeelingly without stopping his nervous prowling.

"Grouch!" Kitty rejoined tartly.

"Sorry, Kitty," Jerry apologized. "I'm just worried." He strolled away aimlessly.

Kitty looked after the manager's departing figure and then turned to Jimmy, a slightly puzzled expression in her blue eyes. "What's the matter," she demanded. "Jerry looks as though someone had stolen his last nickel."

"It's just about as bad as that," Jimmy told her. "Sam Bloom's taking the scenery. We're all washed up, Kitty."

"What!" she gasped. "You mean—you mean there's no hope of Broadway? Oh, Jimmy!" Her eyes filled with tears. She caught hold of his arm, staring at him as though trying to fathom the true meaning of his words.

Jimmy nodded and swallowed hard. "Don't worry, Kitty. Durant promised to see us through when he gets out of the money."

Something else came to her mind. Kitty shook her head. "Why, if Bloom took the scenery away that meant that the show would absolutely have to close. And there was Dad with all his little savings gone, and Jimmy's few pennies. Surely, there must be some way out of the situation. She couldn't let this terrible catastrophe fall upon her father's head. She didn't mind the loss so much herself. She was young and she could work, but it was Dad and the fact that Durant had promised to take care of them didn't reassure her. She was beginning to distrust his motives. It hadn't been for the love of Dad and Jimmy that he had sold them a piece of the show."

"But—but if the show closes, Jimmy, what are we going to do?" she demanded, still clinging to the arm of her father. "If he can't pay himself, but it's Dad. Are we going to do about him?"

"I don't know, Kitten," Jimmy patted her shoulder tenderly. "But no matter what happens, we're going to stick together like we promised that day at the beach. You remember?"

"Uh-huh," Kitty nodded solemnly. "I'm still wearing the ring." She held up her hand, displaying the plain silver band on her little finger. "Through thick and thin," she read, turning the ring around.

"Through thick and thin," Jimmy repeated. "And it sure looks pretty thin now, honey."

They stood in silence, each looking at the little ring that meant so much to them. If she could only think of something to do. Kitty sighed. Some way to get Durant. Durant! That name brought a rush of memories to throng her mind. Durant was interested in her. At least, he had made a number of advances, all of which Kitty had warded off without the slightest compunction.

But now the situation was serious. Some one had to act, and act quickly. And no one seemed to be able to think of anything to do. Suppose she talked to Durant. Perhaps he could help her to get a little. She looked up to him a little. Jimmy wouldn't like that. She knew, and she really loved Jimmy. But she wouldn't be anything personal, she assured herself. It would be for the sake of everyone concerned.

Jimmy's arm slipped about her waist and he drew her close to him, his lips pressed against her cheek.

TWO KILLED IN LONGER SKIRTS PRISON BREAK FOR FALL WEAR

on officers in the battle with the desperate men. William Webb, convict from Kansas City, Kan., was fatally shot by Dave Campbell, storekeeper of Lansing. Robert Collins, Arkansas City, Kan., convict, shot and killed himself when he was surrounded.

Most of the prisoners surrendered when escape was cut off through Lansing by a flank attack of officers of the town. W. L. Heaslip, guard was wounded in the leg during the battle, but his condition was said not to be serious.

Four Sought

Volunteers from Lansing joined squads of prison officers tonight in a search for the four men still at large. Highways were closed and the warden's office expressed confidence the men would be taken soon.

The mine guards were unarmed, prison officials said. Three of the convicts had revolvers and led the mutiny which began in a shaft. The guards were overcome and placed in the first cage, which was sent to the surface at the end of the day's work. The mine is located at the southwest corner of the prison yard, apart from other industries. A tipple house over the shaft concealed the mutiny temporarily from other penitentiary officers.

As the prisoners marched to the wall they forced the guards to form a line between them and lookouts who might have fired upon the mutineers. Webb, one of the convicts killed, was engaged in a gun duel with Heaslip, wounding the guard.

Heaslip was the hero of a break at the Lansing institution in 1927, when 60 rebellious convicts took a stand in the coal mine tipple and for four days held out against capture. There were 328 men in the mine shaft during that period, including guards and loyal prisoners. When food and water ran out the mutineers fought among themselves. Heaslip took a revolver and led an attack on the desperate men which dislodged them from their entrenched position. That mutiny was caused by refusal of authorities to permit prisoners to smoke cigarettes. No lives were lost and no convicts escaped.

Warden Milt F. Amrine tonight declined to discuss details of the break. He said, however, he would issue a formal statement later.

PAROLE BOARD SITS DURING RIOT

LANSING, Kan., Aug. 6.—UP.—The Kansas state board of administration was in session as a parole board at the penitentiary here late today when the sound of shooting reverberated through the prison office and interrupted their deliberations.

The three board members, along with the warden, fled from the room without a word. They ran to the scene of the shootings and joined guards in a running battle with 14 escaped convicts. None of the men would comment on the break tonight.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—UP.—In the autumn when leaves begin to fall, and skirts will drop—way down to three inches below the knee. And up—way up to normal—the waistline will rise.

All because, and for no other reason, that women and styles "must be different."

Designers, manufacturers, buyers, retailers and others interested in how the female figure is going to be shaped and adorned this fall gather in advance of the opening of a three-day style and merchandise show, knew what was to be, but not why.

"Why the long skirts?" one manufacturer was asked. "Didn't doctors and health authorities approve the shorter ones as healthier?"

"That's true," he replied, "but don't you think we've had the extreme in short ones long enough? You know women must have changes in styles. They couldn't go much higher, so it was decided to drop them."

No Hobbies
Designers, however, were quick to reassure those who feared a drastic return to the long skirts and hobbles that nothing so revolutionary was ever entertained. "Think about the poor hosiery people," a designer explained. "What would happen to him if the skirts covered up the generous display of 'silk the girls now show'?"

3-Inch Drop
The maximum drop this season will be three inches below the knee and there it will rest. The hosiery and shoe men would not stand for anything else. I can remember back when a girl could wear silk bottoms and cotton top hose, but those days are gone forever.

In colors, the ladies will have blue, black and brown for general wear.

"There will be no single predominant color this season," an official of the Chicago Market Associates told the United Press. All manufacturers and designers tell us there will be plenty of blues, black and brown for street wear. "Materials shown include velvets, Canton and tulle satins. For sports wear, novelty woolsens of tame and riotous colors will be found."

WETS DEFEATED IN WISCONSIN SENATE

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 6.—UP.—Wisconsin wets, successful last spring in recording an overwhelming "wet" repeal vote in a referendum, went down to defeat in the senate today when a bill providing for state manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor was voted down, 12 to 9.

Senator Bernhard Gettleman, author of the bill, who said his bill was based on the theory advanced recently that the eighth amendment does not prohibit states from engaging in manufacture of liquor, fought hard to have the measure enacted.

Debating for the bill, he said the plan was "the only method Wisconsin and other states have to cope with the evils of prohibition."

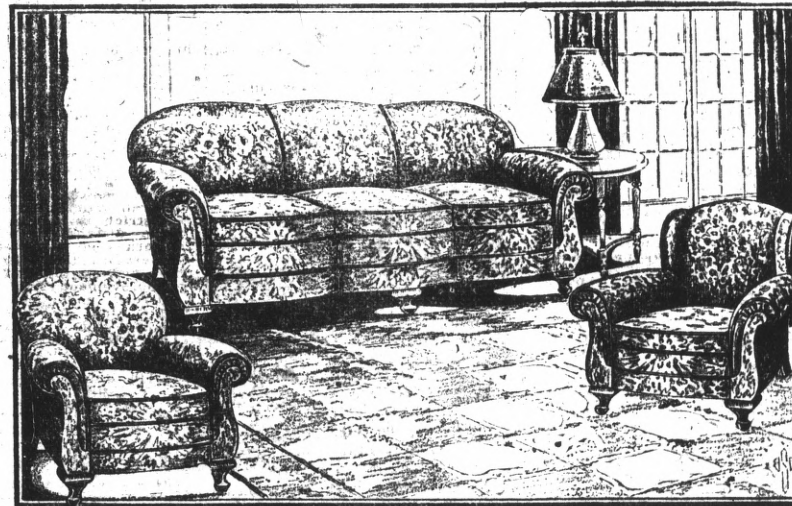

The bill would have permitted the state to dispense liquor to citizens on affidavit it would be used for medicinal purposes only. Gettleman's bill was the last of wet proposals offered at this session. The state liquor law repeal bill, introduced following the referendum last spring, was passed encouraging the wet members to offer additional measures.

OAKS DEFEAT INDIANS IN FIRST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—UP—The Missions of San Francisco climbed into first place of the Pacific Coast league today, tying the San Francisco Seals for that exalted position while the Los Angeles Angels closed in on the leaders until they were only two games behind.

Hollywood dropped a game behind the Missions and Seals by losing to Los Angeles while the Missions were nosing out the Seals, each contest being decided by the narrow margin of one run.

The Seals overcame a three-run lead by scoring four times in the sixth. However, the Missions made three more in the seventh and one in the eighth. Two runs had been scored by the Seals in the ninth inning when they were retired, so the Missions won, 7 to 6.

Breaking a tie in the ninth inning, with one run the Angels defeated Hollywood, 3 to 2.

In other contests Oakland, Los Angeles, 7 to 5, and Sacramento beat Portland, 4 to 1.

Bare Legs Shock Yacht Club Races

COWES, England, Aug. 6.—UP—An upset of an unusual nature today marked the opening of the fashionable Cowes yacht racing week.

The older and more sedate yachting enthusiasts were shocked to find that the women's bare-legged fad has spread to yachting circles and along with it came other forms of women's attire which were revolutionary in the exclusive circles around Cowes.

Khaki shorts and men's gray flannel trousers were found to be popular with the women competitors in the yachting races—some of the wearing only a sweater and khaki shorts.

The first race, a handicap for yachts over 21 meters, was won by A. A. Paton's Lutworth, with Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock second and T. B. F. Daviss' Westward in third place. The time was two hours, thirty-one minutes and three seconds in ideal weather.

City Official On Deer Hunt

Two fine bucks were bagged by Councilman Russell Meyer and B. F. Jefferies during a hunting trip to Snow Mountain, the two reported on their return here yesterday.

Evans Returns From Deer Hunt

T. P. "Duke" Evans, manager of the Republic Steel Package company here, has returned from Mendocino County with a five point buck he shot.

Anglers Banned From Trout Stream

BEND, Ore., Aug. 6.—UP—No fishing on the upper reaches of the Deschutes river from Crane Prairie to the headwaters will be allowed after tonight for the rest of the season. This was the announcement made today by District Deputy Game Warden Arthur Tuck.

The closing order has been authorized by the state game commission to protect the rainbow trout egg supply. Many "brood fish" are now in the upper reaches of the river, due to unusual low water conditions and would fall easy prey to the anglers.

KID CHOCOLATE WILL BATTLE SINGER

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—UP—Easily the two outstanding attractions in metropolitan boxing circles and perhaps the two best fighters in the world for their weight, Al Singer, dark eyed Bronx boy, and Kid Chocolate, Cuban Negro, have been matched for a 12-round bout at the Polo Grounds Aug. 29.

It took five months to make the Singer Chocolate match, but it ever there was a boxing contest, time and trouble on this certainly looks like it.

Actually no title will be at stake, but the winner will have no trouble gaining recognition as to 130 pounds.

The world's best fighter from 122 to 130 pounds.

Singer Beats Routs

Singer knocked out Andre Routs of France, featherweight champion in the second round of a non-title bout at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, July 24 and is the uncrowned king of the 128 pounders.

Chocolate has never lost a fight in more than 150 matches. Only once has he been held to a draw. Joe Squitro knocked him down for a count of nine in the first round last winter and the little Negro got off the floor to earn a draw.

Madison Square Garden won't have to hire any press agents to write stories about Al Singer testing a drowning girl from a lake or start a controversy about whether Kid Chocolate will, or will not, come to the scene of the battle by airplane.

The only catch to this match is try and get a ticket. The speculators will get about the first 15 rows and triple prices for them, so it makes no difference what original figure the Garden decides to charge.

Unless the seats are called too high, the match ought to pack the Polo Grounds and attract a gate of more than $200,000 which is some figure for a non-championship fight among featherweights.

AT HOTEL CARQUINEZ

Arrivals at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson of Sacramento, L. H. Hild, L. J. Hanchett, R. N. Burrell, T. A. Goodrich and P. M. Swihart of San Francisco.

Dear Ed—
You sure having my troubles now?
Joe M. Mahon is riding me to match Dynamite with Red Razbury—and you know how Red made a monkey out of Dynamite when he was the sparring partner. Besides that Dynamite is often real all the time to let him fight Red. He has the idea in his mind that he says he will tell him just how to fight Red with that left hook—but why didn't he do it when they boxed together? Say—don't tell this to Shrugwell—Red gave me the old horse laugh. Would you like to be in my shoes right now?
Yours, Joe

SOVIETS SCORE PROPOSAL FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—UP—In formal discussions by Secretary Stimson and five foreign diplomats on July 25 of the advisability of proposing an international commission to attempt settlement of the Russo-Chinese dispute today had the unexpected effect of arousing Russian suspicions of the powers and China alike.

Receipt in Moscow of reports that Secretary Stimson had proposed appointment of a six-power commission to fix responsibility for the Manchurian controversy, created some embarrassment in the United Press was told in official quarters at Washington that Moscow had received a garbled impression of the American position, the degree of indignation aroused among the Russians was such as to impede temporarily all efforts to settle the controversy.

Despite the unusual secrecy surrounding the conversation at the state department, July 25, it was learned definitely several days ago that tentative proposals to offer outside assistance in settling the Russo-Chinese dispute were discussed. The envoys with whom Stimson spoke on the subject were the ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, and the German chargé d'affaires, representing that nation's absent ambassador.

Seven Couples Still Dancing In Marathon

Seven couples passed their 25th hour of dancing in Joe Rossi's marathon at midnight last night, with all indications of continuing for many hours. Rossi is confident that the marathon will pass the state record.

All couples are in the best of condition, according to Rossi. Motion pictures of the dancers, which were to have been taken this afternoon, have been postponed until Sunday afternoon, when the "mileage" will be higher.

Rossi is arranging a special entertainment for the Saturday night patrons. Crowds of interested spectators continue to increase.

Probation Officer Will Move Office

MARTINEZ, Aug. 6.—The county board of supervisors today granted permission to Dr. Thomas A. Boyer, county probation officer, to move his quarters to those formerly occupied by W. H. Hanlon, county superintendent of schools.

Boyer's present offices will be occupied by the traffic bureau, it was stated.

THE BELL SYSTEM IS BUILDING AHEAD OF THE GROWTH OF THE COUNTRY

This is the telephone's job and goal

THE United States is developing a new civilization. The telephone is an indispensable element in it. The Bell System is building ahead of the growth of this civilization. In 1929 the telephone budget for land and buildings is 54 million dollars, with new buildings rising in 200 cities. New equipment for central offices will cost 142 millions; exchange lines 120 millions; toll lines 119 millions.

The Bell System's total expenditure for plant and service improvements this year will be 559 million dollars.

This outlay is required because the telephone is a universal servant of this democracy. Business uses it to create more prosperity. Homes use it for comfort and protection, for keeping friendships alive and enriching life. Its general use enables each personality to extend itself without regard to distance.

The telephone ideal is that anyone, anywhere, shall be able to talk quickly and at reasonable cost with anyone, anywhere else. There is no standing still in the Bell System.

In spite of the difficulty, however, Wicks, appeared confident that the zeppelin, as well as the zeppelin's hydrogen units, which support the dirigible, would be filled by noon Wednesday.

While a score of mechanics and repair men worked unceasingly all night and throughout the day, and visitors continued to pour into Lakehurst by the thousands, interest turned on the identity of 18 passengers who will fly back to Germany on the giant airship.

New Passengers
William B. Leeds, millionaire son of the late "Tin Plate King" was announced today as one of the passengers who will make the entire world cruise. He will not be accompanied on the voyage by his wife the former Princess Xenia of Russia.

Dr. Eckener has announced that the names of two of the round-the-world passengers will be kept secret until the dirigible leaves Lakehurst.

The elderly German commander was busy all day with plans to get his ship safely started on its cruise. He took a short recess this morning, however, to make a New York with F. W. Meister, American representative of the Zeppelin company. They had lunch at a large hotel with several other men said to be bankers and lawyers, and it is understood the group discussed the proposals revealed yesterday for a regular Trans-Atlantic passenger service with a fleet of four dirigibles, to start in 1931.

Motors Repaired
German mechanics familiar with the delicate mechanism of the engines came down from New York and studied the evidences of wear and strain on the bearings, tightened screws and bolts and replaced parts of the motors.

One of the "biggest problems" Commander Eckener will have to face on the world flight will be that of a possible forced landing. Should it be necessary to release a large amount of hydrogen at some remote spot in Siberia, it would be impossible to continue the trip unless a new supply could be rushed to the ship in trucks.

The re-fueling problem also worried Dr. Eckener until he arranged with a chemical engineering corporation to ship quantities of a specially-developed gas known as propane, in liquid form, to Tokyo, which will be the Graf's first stop after leaving its home base at Friedrichshafen.

Shrine Destroyed By Soviets

IN WAR against religion waged in Russia, the Soviet has demolished the famous shrine of the Iberian Virgin in Moscow. The sacrifice of the shrine came before the Communist anti-war day of Aug. 1. The venerated edifice contained a copy of an ikon of the Iberian Mother of God, brought from Mount Athos in 1648 and considered to be of special miraculous efficacy.

LEADERS LAUD PROGRESS OF RICHMOND

shipload if he likes, at our Richmond terminal and we will place it at the desired spot in San Francisco at the same cost to him as though it had been unloaded on a dock in San Francisco. We will absorb extra costs where these occur. And we will speed up the handling of the freight so that in most cases there will be little if any loss of time to shippers in landing cargo at Richmond no matter what point in the bay region it may be destined for. To be successful the Parr Richmond terminal must have volume tonnage. We need get only 5 percent of the tonnage handled in San Francisco bay to accomplish this. The terminal will give the service and it will attract the cargo, which in turn, must attract the ships that will make Richmond a port of call for the principal steamship lines.

Shoup Tells Prospect
Shoup, as president of the Southern Pacific, said the past history and future prospects of Richmond had been carefully analyzed before his company had entered into cooperation by establishing a ferry service and running new tracks to the inner harbor.

"We found," he said, "that Richmond had made an exceedingly rapid growth and that it had made good on all its promises in the past. We had reason and still have reason to believe that the same will hold good in the future. The Southern Pacific has taken pleasure in cooperating for the upbuilding of Richmond."

Dohmann, who heads the new $10,000,000 H. C. Capwell investment just opened in Oakland, said the best proof of his faith in the east bay territory is the new store.

"If we did not feel that this whole region is going to go forward at a tremendous rate we would never have created that great establishment," he said.

British May Move Troops From Egypt

LONDON, Aug. 6.—UP—The problem of British relations with Egypt, which has proved too knotty for the most brilliant English statesmen in past years, moved a long step towards an accord tonight with the publication by the foreign office of proposals to terminate British military "occupation" of Egypt, although providing for retention of British protection in the Suez canal zone.

Egypt has been a sovereign state since 1923, when the British protectorate of eight years ended. British troops in Egypt, have been for the purpose of protecting foreigners, preventing invasion by a foreign power and protection of imperial communications.

The text of the proposals, which were concluded during the visit of King Fuad and Premier Mahmoud Pasha of Egypt to London, must be approved by the Egyptian parliament and then submitted to the British parliament. If the parliaments approve the proposals they will be made effective by conclusion and ratification of a treaty.

A $1.25 to Rid Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

$200,000 LOST WHEN DAM BREAKS

LITTLEFIELD, Ariz., Aug. 6.—UP—Collapse of the Littlefield, Mesquite and Bunkerville districts, caused approximately $200,000 damage, it was estimated today.

The dam collapsed just before midnight Monday, but the rushing cloudburst waters caused no loss of life.

The damage was confined almost entirely to the irrigation system from the Virgin river and the dam which is across the Narrows near Littlefield.

Farms at Littlefield were damaged, but nothing of value was washed away. The damage at Mesquite and Bunkerville which are just across the line in Nevada, was estimated at only $5,000.

Water reacher house windows in Littlefield. Residents in all three of the small towns were warned and escaped to higher ground. The dam, partially constructed, had reached only half its proposed height, and had not been anchored when the cloudburst waters struck it.

Cloudbursts since Sunday have taken the lives of a railroad engineer and fireman near Las Vegas, Nev., and that of an unidentified man near El Centro, Calif. Railroad traffic has been delayed by washed out bridges, now repaired.

Equity Tries To Settle War With Producers

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6.—UP—After their third conference, in an attempt to settle contract specification differences, committees representing the association of Motion Picture Producers and Actors' Equity again today refused to reveal their progress.

The usual statement, "we have met today and will meet again tomorrow," was issued.

Benicia Ferry Ask Permit To Build New Pier

MARTINEZ, Aug. 6.—The Martinez-Benicia Ferry company is planning the construction of a new ferry slip on the municipal pier at a cost of between $25,000 and $30,000, according to A. J. Pometta, manager.

Pometta stated that permission for construction will be sought from the city council tomorrow night. He declared that the company proposes to extend the city wharf 100 feet further into the straits to insure deep water for its three boats. The new slip, as planned, will occupy a position paralleling the present slip but 100 feet northward.

The company has available all necessary materials for building the proposed slip, having retained the Rodeo slip dismantled at the opening of the Carquinez bridge.

9 Inmates Of Narcotic Home Still At Large

POMONA, Calif., Aug. 6.—UP—Nine inmates who escaped from the State Narcotic hospital at Spadra when 100 patients rioted were still being hunted by county officers tonight.

Seven of the 16 who broke away have been retaken. Only five unnamed attendants were on duty when the inmates rioted in the north section early Monday and the 16 escaped before deputy sheriffs arrived, only wooden doors barring their progress.

Motorists Fined In Alstom Court

F. A. Bickert of Oakland was fined $15 when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstom yesterday on a charge of cutting in.

R. Aughinbaugh of Crockett paid a $25 fine on a charge of driving a car with a cutout open.

State Traffic Officer Lester Easton made the arrests.

WIFE DIVORCES PHONE HEAD IN RENO

RENO, Nev., Aug. 6.—UP—Presidency of the American Telephone and Telegraph company has so occupied Walter S. Gifford that he lost his wife through divorce proceedings here today.

On the sole allegation that her husband became so enthralled over his duties as head of the large corporation that he became unmindful of her, Mrs. Gifford was granted a decree of divorce.

No reflections on Gifford's character were made in the complaint or evidence, the wife praying him instead for his success in the business world.

But she was quite emphatic in her intimations that while Gifford was busy trying to improve service for husbands who wished to telephone their wives he failed to remember her by telephone conversations.

Mrs. Gifford further claimed that her husband's long office hours made him neglect social demands.

Testimony was offered and the decree was granted at a secret session. Then the judge called attorneys and newspapermen into a conference and an agreement to make details of the proceedings public was reached.

Custody of two children was granted to Mrs. Gifford but during school terms the father will be permitted to have them.
